ABOUT

NEBOSH

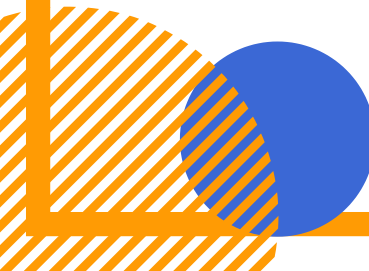

NEBOSH is a leading global organisation, which provides health, safety and environmental qualifications. They're internationally recognised qualifications help to raise the competence of safety and environmental professionals as well as individuals at all levels in the workplace.

Since they started in 1979 over 400,000 people from around the world have gained a NEBOSH qualification. They are represented in over 132 countries around the world.

Their qualifications are highly respected by governments, employers and learners. They build the knowledge and skills which underpin competent performance as a health, safety and environmental professional.

In 2014, NEBOSH received a Queen's Award for Enterprise for Outstanding Achievement in International Trade in recognition of their international success.

NEBOSH has updated the National General Certificate – the most trusted health and safety qualification of its kind in the world. It's designed to reflect the needs of today's employer giving learners everything they need to know and do to make their workplace safer.

WHO IS THE COURSE FOR?

NEBOSH consider the National General Certificate (NGC) to be the gold standard in health and safety qualifications.

Having the NGC is good for career prospects as it both boosts someones standing in their current role and can help them progress. The qualification is:

- Relevant to every workplace
- Ideal for managers, supervisors, or anybody with health and safety management responsibilities
- Perfect for those embarking on a health and safety career

The NEBOSH General Certificate is a great starting point when it comes to health and safety and doesn't necessarily need to be taken by those already in health and safety roles. The NGC does not have any entry requirements so is open to anyone who would like to develop their skills.

COURSE OVERVIEW

The NGC was developed by NEBOSH experts including input from 3,000 of the world's leading employers and health and safety professionals.

- A qualification that is rooted in today's real-world needs
- The syllabus has been streamlined to concentrate on core key skills
- Uses straightforward terms and language - it has been reviewed by the Plain English campaign
- Learner choice – can be completed by eLearning, face to face, block or day release

Assessed by a combination of:

- One question paper to assess what you know
- One practical – a risk assessment to assess what you can do

Learners complete a risk assessment and develop an action plan for their workplace – this is immediately useful and valuable

COURSE OBJECTIVES

The objective of this qualification is to enable participants to develop an understanding of safety and health and what that means to a business.

With in-depth focus on the things that matter, the NGC covers:

- How to effectively manage health and safety
- The UK's key legal requirements
- How to identify and control common workplace hazards
- How to measure success

UNITS AND ASSESSMENTS

There are two assessments for the NEBOSH General Certificate:

- NG1 will be assessed by a 2-hour written exam consisting of 10 short answer questions and 1 long answer.
- A 3-hour practical risk assessment carried out in the workplace to demonstrate the knowledge learned in elements 5-11.

1-2-1 support will be provided throughout the course to ensure learners complete their exams and pass the course.

The length of time it takes to pass the NEBOSH General Certificate qualification depends on which type of training method you chose.

Online Course: This usually takes around 80 – 120 hours to complete but is flexible and can be worked around you and your commitments. You will have access to the e-learning resources and online tutor support for 12 months from the start of the course date.

Classroom Course: This usually consists of two split weeks (10 days). You'll be expected to travel to a single place of study on specific dates. Alternatively in-house courses are available.
